Week of September 30

A Note from the teacher

Don't forget to sign up for a Fall Conference as soon as possible with your child's ELA and Math teacher. If your child is with me for ELA and Math, you may sign up online at <https://signup.com/go/sctHnr>. Time slots are filling quickly! If none of these days/times work for you, please e-mail me with three days and times that will work so that I can work with you to get these conferences scheduled. I look forward to meeting with your families to discuss your child's progress in 5th grade so far. If at all possible, please schedule your conference at a time that your kiddo can also attend.

Morning Meeting – This week we are working to demonstrate initiative in all areas of life.

Reading – In reading this week we are comparing and contrasting information gleaned from primary and secondary sources.

Math – This week in math we are investigating the relationship between places in our place value system. We will be practicing with an interactive place value chart as well as place value disks throughout the week to concretely explore these relationships.

Science – This week and science we are continuing our investigation of the landforms on the ocean's floor. Early next week we will build a model of the ocean's floor.

Social Studies – We are wrapping up our Westward Expansion unit this week by learning about Native American reservations created when settlers moved west, conflict associated with westward movement, and will use an interactive map to show westward movement. We will also review for Friday's unit test.
